DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 7-9 are directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the applicant has chosen to claim a program, which is representative of subject matter deemed to be non statutory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nanbu et al., U.S. Patent No. 6,970,754.

Claim 1 recites an automatic design system, comprising an automatic designing means for computing output value information in compliance with output value computing information containing computational expressions, based on input value information required for automatic design of a product; a draughting information forming means for forming draughting information to display the input value information, the output value information, and a drawing showing a shape based on the input value information and the output value information; an image displaying means for displaying a drawing based on the draughting information; and an attribute changing means for changing a display attribute on a drawing displayed by the image displaying means such that a display mode of the input value information is made different distinguishably from display modes of other information.

As best understood, all of these features are adequately disclosed, or rendered inherent, by the disclosure of Nanbu et al. (e.g. See Figures 1 and 20-43 and their corresponding textual descriptions).

As per claims 2-3, as best understood, all of these features are also anticipated, or rendered inherent, to the disclosure of Nanbu et al. (e.g. See Figures 1 and 20-43 and their corresponding textual descriptions).

As per claims 4 and 7, the rejection of claim 1 is applied herein.

As per claim 5-6 and 8-9, the rejection of claims 2-3 is applied herein.
